

Colorful, Abstract And Thoroughly Engrossing

Simon Liu Gallery, presents works by Fred Bendheim, January 7-February 10 at the gallery, 645 Dean Street, in Brooklyn (between Carlton and Vanderbilt avenues). The gallery is open Monday - Saturday, 10 a.m. - 5 p.m. An artist's reception is slated for January 13 from 6-8 p.m.

NYC based artist Bendheim will be exhibiting paintings and works on paper. Bendheim's paintings are colorful abstract work that have developed from his earlier figurative style and from his engagement with the natural world; eastern philosophy and meditation.

Many of the paintings are composed of a single line that weaves an ornate pattern and describes space, containing metaphorical references to the universe that we inhabit and that is inhabited within.

This will be Bendheim's 13th solo exhibition; his eleventh in NYC.
